

Graphic Arts Services: Adapting to the changing world of print

For more than 35 years, Graphic Arts Services has kept pace with the changing world of print, adapting to meet the needs of industry and clients in Chicagoland.

Since starting in the typesetting industry, we've won customers with our reliable service. In the early '90s, we evolved to meet clients' needs for desktop publishing support, providing film outputs, scanning, color retouch, and color proofs. When the need for outside prepress diminished, we shifted gears again, developing expertise as a commercial printer.

After more than 10 years combining our extensive prepress knowledge with access to the best presses, digital presses and bindery services, we've built a loyal customer base, including Fortune 500 companies, agencies, universities, non-profit organizations, marketing companies, pharmaceutical firms, restaurants, hospitals, food/beverage retailers, and small businesses.

While we've adapted to fit a changing print world, our focus remains consistent: Giving customers what they need—high quality, flexible print runs, quick turnaround, and affordable pricing. Our goal is to provide the skills and technology to make your print project a success.
